THE LONG GALLERY & STUDIOS

This inviting Gallery owned by Jenny Long, artist and art instructor, is also the home of 8 Resident Artist Studios as well as a Makers Shop featuring handcrafted Canadian goods. Located in downtown Penticton, amidst the infamous Farmer's Market that takes over Main Street on Saturdays in Penticton's warmer months, the Long Gallery is also a hub of workshops and classes for all levels of learning and creating. The Exhibition schedule in the gallery presents nine rotating shows a year, including the owners' work and that of the studio, local + select artists.

POTTERY WORKS GALLERY

ART GALLERY + SHOP

Functional pottery and ceramics make unique, one of a kind and useful gifts.

Pottery Works is a multi-media art studio located in New Westminster that supports, teaches and promotes artists overcoming disability through the practice of art and craft. Our primary goal at Pottery Works is to support community inclusion for our artists.

For almost anyone you need to buy for, there is a mug, or dish, platter or vase hand made by artists with diverse abilities and gifts.

Just 20 minutes from downtown Vancouver and the Vancouver International Airport, the Museum of Anthropology, located at the University of British Columbia, houses one of the world's finest displays of Northwest Coast First Nations art in a spectacular Arthur Erickson-designed building overlooking mountains and sea. Inside the soaring glass and concrete structure of MOA's Great Hall, see magnificent totem poles, weavings and contemporary artworks. Admire the world's largest collection of works by Northwest Coast artist Bill Reid, including his famous cedar sculpture The Raven and the First Men, and see over 9,000 objects from around the world are displayed. MOA also features traditional Haida houses, poles and Masquiam house posts and a wide range of contemporary art design. Enjoy a wide range of expertly-curated exhibitions for an expertly-
